Overtones of hibiscus and rose both dominate the flavor and aroma, finishing quite tart and very dry. As a kettle soured ale, its tartness was formed quickly and in a controlled manner. It was then dry hopped with a massive charge of Idaho grown Cascade hops, adding a sharp floral character. The final product was then filtered, granting it a beautiful ruby hue. 3) Pecan Porter (5.6% ABV) A rich and malty seasonal offering brewed with blackstrap molasses, dried orange peels and roasted pecans.
